CURA ENTERPRISE - In today's fast paced global economy, with emerging threats coupled with ever more regulations, organizations find themselves in a position that necessitates the active management of Governance, Risk & Compliance (GRC). As there is substantial overlap across these functions, a coordinated approach is required. Cura Enterprise has been developed to be a scalable GRC foundation that meets these needs.

Product Overview

Cura Enterprise provides clarity through convergence of information resulting in improved efficiencies across the organization. Cura Enterprise is a scalable open architecture GRC foundation platform that enables organizations to achieve their multiple GRC requirements in their own uniquely configurable way, either independently of Cura or through the use of Cura's best practices and templates, published standards, and frameworks.

Cura enables the collection of data across the entire organization, its vendors and its customers in order to provide the Assurance and Performance required by management and the board.

Cura's modules are designed to consistently:

- facilitate capture, assessment, measurement and management of data collected from any source
- put in place tasks to ensure treatment, sign-off, corrective and procedural actions are taken by all users
- provide performance management of the organization through analytics, benchmarking, reporting and assurance
- mature employees in matters of risk, compliance, governance and ethics through the use of evaluations and training
